"Your work with our team has been remarkable...truly valuable and sustainable. We see where to strengthen and compensate for each other in complete respect, rather than wonder where the heck we're coming from.

Our new knowledge has also provided a great source for humor and team building. Our load has been lightened by it and we're more united and stronger than ever."

- Rob Falke, Past NCI President
 "The father of modern airflow testing and diagnostics and residential airflow balancing."
