

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Contact: Stacey Bevill, Golden Career Strategies

Phone: 864-527-0425

Email: stacey@goldencareerstrategies.com

Website: goldencareerstrategies.com

Golden Career Strategies President Stacey Bevill Honored with Business & Professional Women of South Carolina Woman of Achievement Award

Greenville, SC, June 3, 2026 – Stacey Bevill, President of Golden Career Strategies, has been selected to receive the prestigious Business & Professional Women of South Carolina (BPW SC) Woman of Achievement Award. This honor recognizes women who have distinguished themselves through significant community contributions and serve as role models for aspiring professionals.

Bevill was nominated by the Business & Professional Women of Spartanburg, which has been advancing the interests of working women throughout South Carolina since 1919.

“This recognition reflects not just individual achievement, but the power of women supporting women in professional growth,” said Bevill. “Business & Professional Women SC has been a cornerstone for women’s advancement for over a century, and I’m honored to be a member and to be recognized by such an established network,” Bevill added, “Professional women today face unique challenges and opportunities. Organizations like BPW SC provide essential platforms for education and networking that help women advance their careers while making a meaningful community impact.”

Bevill brings over 25 years of experience spanning marketing, entrepreneurship, human resources, organizational development, and leadership coaching. As President of Golden Career Strategies since 2000, she has led consulting and coaching initiatives serving manufacturing and professional organizations with a focus on leadership effectiveness, culture, communication, and employee engagement. She was selected for SCBIZ’s 2024 Manufacturing Power List, recognizing her leadership and impact in South Carolina’s manufacturing sector, and her recent achievement of Lean Six Sigma Black Belt certification further strengthens her ability to deliver data-driven workforce transformation solutions. She currently serves on the Board of Trustees for the University Center of Greenville and the Council for Supply Chain Management Professionals SC Roundtable.

"I have watched Stacey's career and business since the early 2000s," comments Tracy Regan, 2026 Nominating Committee Chair for BPW SC, Spartanburg. This is one of the wonderful benefits of BPW - seeing colleagues grow and thrive, and seeing their ambitions and dreams come into being. It was evident Stacey's time to be recognized had come, especially with the achievement of certification for Lean Six Sigma Black Belt. Her dedication to empowering others through professional development and mentorship makes her an outstanding role model for women across our state."

The Business & Professional Women of South Carolina operates through four active chapters (Gaffney, Greenwood, Spartanburg and Tri-County) serving women throughout the state. Women interested in joining this established network can connect with the Business & Professional Women of Spartanburg through their Facebook group at <https://www.facebook.com/groups/530408923720869/> or contact the state organization at info@bpw-sc.org or 1-864-344-3163. For more information about the rich history of BPW SC, please watch the

About Business & Professional Women of South Carolina

Established in 1919, Business & Professional Women of South Carolina has maintained a commitment for over a century to enhancing the lives of working women through advocacy, educational programming, and networking opportunities. The organization operates four chapters across the state, providing strategic geographic coverage and access to BPW SC resources for professional women throughout South Carolina. The organization emphasizes substantial benefits for members, including access to educational programs on legislative issues affecting women, leadership skill development, professional networking opportunities across industries, and access to scholarships for continuing education.

About Stacey W. Bevill, PCC, CLSSBB, ACA, MPM® – SCBIZ selected Bevill for their Manufacturing Power List, recognizing her leadership and impact in South Carolina's manufacturing sector. She works with leaders, teams, entrepreneurs and individuals who are ready for transformation. She serves on the Board of Trustees for the University Center of Greenville and the Council for Supply Chain Management Professionals (CSCMP) SC Roundtable. Bevill holds multiple credentials and is passionate about leadership, communication, resilience, well-being, employee retention, and engagement. She is currently pursuing her master's in human resource development through Clemson University. For a complimentary consultation, call 864-527-0425 or email stacey@goldencareerstrategies.com. You can find her bio at <https://www.goldencareerstrategies.com/company-information/>

###